DRIVEN.CO found ourselves immediately on a plane flying across the country to rescue another Box. Indeed, there was a Box that had been claimed by the swamp, sitting out in the backwoods for some 25 years. We met up with a couple of great guys and were able to drag the Brubaker Box out of its swampy grave.

A practical guide for community builders on building and scaling professional communities that thrive and transform the lives of the people within them through virtual and in-person events. Community is a hot topic in 2020. Enterprises, startups, investors, entrepreneurs, and creators are all jumping on board launching communities or building products for communities. This is especially timely given that a global pandemic has left people longing for human connection. And then there are the people like Mark Birch that just wanted to bring salespeople together. When Mark started the Enterprise Sales Forum, he had no big vision. It was just his way to convince salespeople and startup founders to meet and help each other. What started in a sweaty conference room for 50 people six years ago eventually blossomed into a community of 25,000 members and over 20 cities globally. Community-in-a-Box is a how-to guide into building and scaling a community from the ground up or reinvigorating existing communities. From the experiences of the Enterprise Sales Forum and other communities he launched, Mark weaves those stories into a book that leads you past the minefields and mistakes so you can confidently launch and grow a healthy community. Even though we all come to community building with our own motivations, the end result is a labor of love that positively impacts the lives of many. Through this book, you will also feel the impact of the power of community and what it takes to grab the spark and start a movement!

Hot and Steamy with a Side of Sweet From the remote oil fields of Northern Canada to the striking Rocky Mountains, this complete series of happily ever after novels will leave you breathless. There are four complete books in this series. DRIVEN BY FIRE, a scorned in love romance Piper's life has become a clich . She stands at a literal crossroads—behind her is the driveway back to her cheating boyfriend, her cramped trailer home and a dismal future. In front of her is the highway leading to the Northwest Territories in one direction and a one-street oil town in the other. When a truck driver offers her a ride into town, she wonders if seeking out a better life was worth the risk. JUST A FLING, a one-night stand romance All Danielle wanted was one night with the cowboy. One night of fun to distract her from the quiet life she leads in a remote oil town. How she ended up eating breakfast with the cowboy and making plans to spend the day together was beyond her. That went against all the rules of a one-night stand. OUT OF BOUNDS, a second chance romance Bobby wishes she could look at Luca and see that things are different from when they were on Canada's Olympic Ski Team. That he isn't the same person who spent every waking hour with her, training, studying and being a teenager in love. She wishes she could introduce herself to him and start from the beginning; pretend as if they don't have a shared tragic history that tore them apart in a way that can never be fixed. FOCUSED ON YOU, a slow burn romance Jules is determined to make Badger, the new owner of the Wild Side Art Gallery, like her. Everyone likes her. Badger seems to have missed the memo on her widespread appeal. He painted the chalk outline of her body in red flags the first time they met, calling their friendship dead before he gave it a chance. Jules resolves to make him re-evaluate their relationship and plies him with reasons to relax around her. The more he accepts, the more curious she becomes about this man who's made her small Rocky Mountain town his home. And she's not the only curious one. Badger's determined to fake being her friend until he knows exactly what she's playing at. Until it's him playing games and it's more than friendship on the line.
